Attention all Dreamers!! Harvard is offering free tuition for highly motivated honor students that have a family income below $40,000. The prestigious university recently announced that from now on undergraduate students from low-income families can go to Harvard for free... no tuition and no student loans! This year, Harvard's tuition is $26,066 and the total cost of attendance, including tuition, room, board, and other charges is $37,928. What wonderful news for all overachieving Dreamers!!

Dreamer Council

The time is quickly approaching, to choose new Dreamer Council members. We will have elections during our January meeting. Dreamer Council Members get to travel to Leadership Conferences all over town and meet with other Dreamers Nationally. Dreamer Council members get to plan all the activities for year that Dreamers can partake in and most of all Dreamer Council members are always the first to know what is going on around Dreamer Station. Dreamer Council members also get to go on the Spring Break trip if they qualify. If interested in running for one of the ten (10) positions please let Mona Lisa know by December 31, 2005.

SAT/ACT

As Dreamers are into their junior and senior years, it's time to start thinking about taking college entrance exams. Most colleges require both SAT and ACT tests; IHAD Staff can help you research the school that you want to attend and what requirements are needed to attend that school. Did you know that IHAD will PAY for any of the college entrance tests that you would like to take? We will even provide tutoring for anyone who wants additional preparation assistance.
